

Welcome

All of us at Leadercast thank you for participating in our conference today—Ripple Effect. The speakers of Ripple Effect will give you transformative takeaways and compelling inspiration that will be key as you work with your teams and organizations to rebound from difficult situations born from (or exacerbated by) COVID-19. The pandemic has created so many challenges for so many of us all over the world. Our lives have and are continuing to change: economies have been crippled, education for our children is a challenge that is changing their ability to learn at a critical time in their lives and so much more. But when we are challenged, we resolve and evolve to press onward.

Ripple Effect is about transcending in spite of challenges and creating positive shifts that reverberate beyond our networks and time.

Here, you will learn from U.S Women soccer legend Abby Wambach, Emmy-nominated digital marketing guru Randi Zuckerberg, global influencer and entrepreneur Radha Agrawal, Paralympian Bonnie St. John, Fast Company Editor-in-Chief Stephanie Mehta, and best-selling author Tiffany Dufu—real stories of the obstacles they've faced and how they succeeded through them, making an impact on their lives and the lives of others. I know you will benefit from and be inspired by what they've shared to use for your life as a leader and as a human being ... to become a leader worth following.

Thank you again for being part of the Leadercast community.

Sincerely,

Ken Moyes
